

MSMA WOMEN PHYSICIANS SECTION (WPS)

What is the Women Physicians Section

MSMA formed the Women Physicians Section (WPS) through a resolution proposed at the 2019 Annual Convention. This passed the House of Delegates with unanimous support forming the Women Physicians Section of the MSMA.

The Missouri State Medical Association Women Physicians Section (WPS) was established to strengthen female physicians' engagement and representation in organized medicine through the development of relevant policy, programming, and services. The section is open to all MSMA member physicians. Female physician Members are Automatically included in the Women Physicians Section and are encouraged to participate in its activities and meetings. The section provides opportunities to network with peers, discuss issues affecting women physicians, and influence MSMA policy through representation in the MSMA.
